Dear Mr Morris,

I must thank you very much for writing me on behalf of my son, & I know how sincerely your thoughts are for him.

Like yourselves Stuart is very much a pacifist, & a more gentle boy & good natured one you couldn't meet, as all who really know him just can't understand this awful nightmare.

I must honestly say that being in Spain, seeing the British authorities actually seeing him (which was very precious to me) & his surroundings I wish you to know he is having every possible help. & I really don't want any demonstrations which may do him more harm than good. but please believe me when I say I know you have my son's interest at heart. &

Thank you. Yours Sincerely Olive Christie

A lot has been written & spoken about Stuart Christie. The British Committee who knew Stuart better than most, have said little.

But in view of all the controversy & feel their position and attitude to the tragic case, be made clear.

I have enclosed a copy of a statement, distributed by them both in London & Glasgow. I hope you will also find a letter written by me to Mrs Christie, before my departure from the Spanish Embassy (I'd like to write about this from up?)
His answer is passed unchanged

JUSTICE IN SPAIN?

Stuart Christie, an 18 year old Scottish boy, has been arrested in Spain and charged with carrying explosives. We don't know whether he is guilty or innocent. We do know that unless the maximum outside pressure is put on the Spanish authorities, there is no guarantee that he will receive a fair trial, or in the event of his being found guilty, that he will not receive an excessively harsh sentence.

We know Stuart. He is not a swashbuckling hero or a sinister revolutionary - he's immature and rash but well-meaning. At the moment he's probably very alone and very frightened. We would like you to write to your M.P., or directly to the Prime Minister, demanding that the British Government takes a strong stand on this issue, and ensures that a lawyer of international reputation defends Stuart at his trial. We cannot rely on governments to take action unless they see that there is strong public feeling. This is not a matter of politics; it's a matter of helping someone in need.

Send protests to the Spanish Embassy.

SCOTTISH COMMITTEE OF 100.

This was in answer to Mr. Stewart's statement in the Press.

Dear Mr. Stewart

We understand your feelings regarding the plight of your son Stuart and apologise most humbly, if the March 8th. by members of the Young Socialists, 1100 and Anarchists disturbed you, but these people, most of whom Mr. Stuart are also anxious that he receives a fair trial, and the best defence counsel this democracy of ours can give him.

If he is innocent and a pacifist as you say then someone has erred, the World should know this, and we better to prove that Stuart was not a terrorist, than movements like the Committee of 100 who as almost everyone knows are steadfastly against all bombs.

Surely you cannot expect any of the major political parties to take action, in an election year without pressure, from the public. especially leaders like Hone, Nelson, Krusee, Lusk etc. who only support people who carry big bombs, and when caught put all the defence of the State behind them.

We don't need bombs to have our voices heard in this world and we sincerely hope that Stuart has been influenced by the above club.

Two of our members will go from Glasgow to London Mon 7.30, there they will carry out a constant vigil and fast outside the Spanish Embassy, they will endeavour to stay there as long as possible or until Stuart's trial.

By these actions it is hoped to show the true character of the Committee of 100 of which Stuart was a member.

Yours sincerely
Walter Morrison

P.S. If you disagree with our actions and wish that we abandon them we will
